Senior Product Designer and Design Manager with 15+ of experience across startups, agencies, and distributed enterprise teams. Specializes in Product, Marketing, and Branding Design. Proven ability to lead design from discovery through delivery in agile environments. Drawn to mission-driven companies in the outdoor, active lifestyle, and technology spaces.

EXPERIENCE

Senior Product Designer, Manager Nearform Jan 2021 - Dec 2025 / Remote

- Deployed as lead designer across multiple client engagements, serving as the primary design point of contact from discovery through delivery, coordinating cross-functional teams and translating briefs into structured designs and handoff-ready interfaces.
- Expanded scope beyond delivery into business development by supporting pre-sales efforts, contributing to proposals, pitch decks, and client presentations, while also standardizing internal design workflows and documentation to reduce onboarding friction and project ramp time.
- Drove design contributions across marketing, brand, and OSS initiatives, including campaigns and collateral, OSS projects & visual identity, and the internal design system, bringing consistency and craft to work that shaped both the company's external presence and internal design culture.

Senior Designer Big Sea Jan 2017 - Jan 2021 / Hybrid

- Led creative direction across a diverse portfolio of client marketing and branding engagements, regularly presenting work directly to clients and guiding projects from concept through execution in close collaboration with content, project management, development, and operations teams.
- Owned end-to-end design for client campaigns, collateral, and website initiatives, bringing consistent craft and strategic thinking to each engagement while setting a quality bar that elevated the work across the broader team.
- Contributed to internal leadership and culture as a consistent voice beyond project work, and led design for the agency's own website, applying the same rigor to the internal brand as to any client.

Senior Designer Cendyn Mar 2012 - Jan 2017 / Hybrid

- Served as art director for a global luxury marketing agency, leading website design and brand development across a roster of boutique hotel clients, delivering premium digital experiences that met the elevated standards of the hospitality industry.
- Owned campaign collateral and creative execution across client accounts, maintaining a high level of craft and brand consistency while developing internal processes that brought greater structure and efficiency to the creative team's workflow.
- Contributed to the agency's own presence by helping lead the creation of internal presentation materials, ensuring the studio's pitch and communication design reflected the same premium positioning it brought to its clients.
